McGILL TRACK TEAM RETAINS CHAMPIONSHIP Tennis Tournament Goes To McGill On Results Of To-day's Play

McGILL CLINCHED TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP YESTERDAY

Brown Brothers, With Wright and Leslie, Reach All-McGill Doubles Finals After Brilliant Play Yesterday—Meet at 11.30 a.m.—Perry Made Fine Showing, but Lost to Wright in Semi-Finals—Leslie Off Form and Lost to Ham—Singles Final at 10 To-day.

A fair-sized crowd watched McGill clinch the tennis championships for this autumn. The players experienced atrocious weather for tennis. It was cold and bleak, the coldness being intensified by a chill wind which was at its height during the morning. However, it was a triumphant day for McGill, for as a result five out of the six men figuring in finals to-day bear McGill colours. The exception is Ham of Toronto Varsity, who won the right to play off with Jack Wright by beating Leslie of McGill, yesterday morning. This game will be played at ten o'clock this morning, and will be refereed by C. S. Bann, first Vice-president of the Province of Quebec Lawn Tennis Association. The doubles final will be staged at 11.30 this morning, when Wright and Leslie meet the Brown brothers in an all-McGill final. That game will be refereed by John M. Miller, president P. Q. L. T. A.

The two singles matches played yesterday morning were watched by an interested crowd. Both games ended surprisingly. Though both games were due to start at 10.30, the game, between Perry and Nunn, did not start until eleven, and the Leslie-Ham match was not under way until 11.15. Nunn was rather favoured to win from Perry, but the slighter McGill man was at the best of his form, and Nunn, who is junior champion of Canada, was eventually beaten after a close battle. Nunn appeared to be slightly over-confident, though this may have been due to nervousness. The score was 6-4, 3-6, 6-4.

Ham was not expected to win from Leslie, but he played a wonderfully good game, and returned the McGill man's hard shots with apparent ease. There was little doubt that Leslie was not playing up to form. He missed many ordinary drives, and sloved up in play several times. Compared with his usual brilliant game, he seemed to be in half-form. Even as it was Leslie made by no means a disgraceful showing and he forced the U. of T. man to play his hardest. Ham won 6-4, 6-2.

However, Perry's wonderful showing in the morning did not see him through to the finals, for he met the redoubtable Wright later on and lost, after playing a fine exhibition, by the score of 6-3, 6-1. This brought Wright into the finals match, which he will play with Ham of Varsity this morning.

The brothers Brown played excellent tennis but met with worthy opposition in Jones and McLachlan in the first doubles match of the morning. The latter pair, who had from Queen's, forced the winners to a game decided several times in the first set, eventually dropping it 9-7. In the second set they weakened and were beaten 2-6.

Purcell and McBurney, of Osgoode Hall, won a good game from the Lyons brothers, of Toronto University, 6-3, 6-2.

This afternoon, devoted entirely to doubles brought little change in the weather; if anything it was slightly colder.

The first two matches to be played were McGill vs. Queens, and versus University of Montreal, both semi-finals. In the former, Jack Wright and Charlie Leslie were against Gillespie & Sexton. From the start there was really little doubt as to McGill's victory over her less experienced opponents. Queens put up a game fight, losing 1-6, 1-6, to Wright and Leslie, who will play tomorrow at 11.30 A. M. in the finals.

Nunn and Ham, of Varsity met Pilon and Gelinas of the University of Montreal, in the latter match. These too were rather unevenly matched, for the losing French team were up against two of Varsity's best players. It must be remembered that Nunn is the Canadian Junior Champion this year. The Varsity men both played very steady games, and with their good team work, were not compelled to stretch themselves to win by 6-3, 6-2.

Immediately afterwards, Leslie and Wright came on again playing Purcell and McBurney of Osgoode Hall, the Law school of Toronto. The two men from the Queen City played a steady game, but were no match for McGill's strong team which won 6-2, 6-1.

From the standpoint of a contest perhaps the best game of the afternoon was that between Nunn and Ham of Varsity, and Brown and J. Brown of McGill. It held the interest of a large crowd to the very last minute, despite the fact that it was becoming quite cold and disagreeable. (Continued on page two)

CADETS MEET SENIORS IN EXHIBITION

R. M. C. Play at Stadium To-day
NEW LINE-UP

Coach Trying Out New Men in To-day's Game

The Senior squad had a light workout at the Stadium yesterday, preparatory to the game today with Royal Military College. About twenty-five men turned out and went through a light practice, no heavy work being attempted. The practice consisted mostly in running through the signals and putting the finishing touches on the plays. The last two days of practice have been very heavy, and the squad is in good shape for any kind of a game. Although the cadets are not considered up to the Intercollegiate standard, they will nevertheless put up a great battle, and the squad expect some stiff resistance this afternoon. Coach Shaughnessy will, in all probability, use all his substitutes during the game. The coach would like to see some of the second string men in action as the best way to judge their ability is to see them in the play. There have been quite a few men out lately trying for positions on the team and as a result the coach has two men for nearly every position. Some of the intermediates have been showing up well lately, and these men will be tried out in to-day's game.

Of the R.M.C. squad very little is known except that they are a scrappy squad and have plenty of pep and spirit. The cadets are certain to be in good condition as they are always in training, and it is expected that they will be able to have the edge on the Red and White squad in this department. Although the cadets were beaten by Queen's a week or so ago, it is expected that they will put up a good battle to-day. One interesting feature of the game to-day is that Gordie Hughes will be kicking against his old team-mates, as Hughes came from R.M.C. to join the McGill squad two years ago.

There have been several changes in the McGill line lately but the probable line-up for to-day's game will be as follows:

ROWING CLUB STARTS TRAINING FOR YEAR

The newly-formed McGill Rowing Club has commenced activities for the year. Dave Logan, who is both President and Manager of the club, announces great plans for the season, and that a start has been made by getting two rowing machines which members may practice on. These machines are now in the Attic of the Ball Room gallery, and training attendance will be

S.C.A. HOLDS RECEPTION FOR NEW MEN

Large Crowd of Freshmen at Strathcona Hall

DR. SMYTHE

Interesting Program of Music, Speeches, and Refreshments

Last evening a large crowd of freshmen turned out to the S. C. A.'s annual Freshmen Reception at Strathcona Hall.

After "Bill" Helveston had led the singing, President MacLeod introduced Principal Smythe of the Co-operating Theological College to the students. Principal Smythe expressed the wish that he could be a freshman once again, for college years are the happiest period in a man's life. But, he warned, we must not let ourselves be carried away by pleasures to the detriment of our studies, for, in spite of what we sing, we do not come to college "to raise Hell all the year."

There are two types of students at University he said, those who come with the intention of gaining some useful knowledge, and those who come to have a good time, and the freshman must be careful which type he associates with, for his associates will influence his whole future life. Those who do not work at University do not work after they get out, and can usually be found between jobs propping up the corner of a dance hall.

The purpose of such a reception as that which the S. C. A. was giving he said, is to enable the new men to get into the right crowd at the start. He told the men what a fine thing it is to learn to work and to play in the correct proportion. There is a time for both, and one must not let his play interfere with his work. As an example of the correct mixing of play and work he gave the meeting of the S. C. A. conference at Muskoka last summer, where a couple of hours of games were engaged in to relieve the tension of the day's work, then when the work commenced no further thought was given to play until that particular undertaking was finished. Every student should take some part in student activities, but he should not let those activities interfere with his work. No more than two nights a week should be taken off from studies. Following Principal Smythe's address the Conro Quartet rendered a couple of selections which were heartily applauded.

Wendell MacLeod, president of the S. C. A., took this opportunity to say a few words to the new students about the work of the Association and cordially to invite all to participate in its activities. While the main purpose of the Association is to study the life of Jesus in an impartial manner, and to try to discover the way toward the fullest realization of life, it does a great deal for the physical well being of the students. It supplies rooms for some sixty undergraduates. It gives annually a freshman reception, a conversation, and a Thanksgiving dinner for out of town students. It also compiles at the beginning of the term a list of boarding houses suitable for students.

Basil MacLean, president of the Students' Council, in a short address congratulated the freshmen on the honourable manner in which they had obeyed the rules laid down by the Students' Council for their success in the rush, and for their survival of the troubling times of the last two weeks. However, he reminded them, next year they will be sophomores and will have the opportunity of enforcing the rules on next year's freshman class. Following MacLean's address Grace Dooley gave a violin solo which was heartily enjoyed twice.

Light refreshments were then served in the lounge, room on the second floor, after which an enjoyable social half hour was spent around the piano. The meeting broke up about ten o'clock.

given to members from five to six in the afternoon until a regular time, and hour has been established. The membership fee for the year is $2.00 and all those desiring to join the Rowing Club may do so by seeing Dave Logan.

ROOTERS MET IN LARGEST PRACTICE YET

Best Band Turnout of the Season

FINAL PRACTICE

To Assemble with Rooters at Stadium this Afternoon

The Rooters' Band, and incidentally some hundred rooters were to be found in the Union Ball Room shortly after five o'clock yesterday evening. The noise they made, while it did not cause a panic in downtown areas, at least pervaded the whole building and could be heard as far as Strathcona Hall in exuberant moments.

A front-page headline in the "Daily" yesterday and various forcible reminders inflicted on Freshmen by Sophomores of all faculties, failed to create much further interest. However, those that were there did good work, especially the band, who played to their utmost, and turned in the best performance of the season. They were the life of the practice. Over twenty men, a hundred-per-cent attendance, led the singing, and at no time did the loud voices of the rooters themselves, down the band, and the rooters applied themselves, well to their noisy task.

All the regular songs were practiced, including the Alma Mater Hymn, "James McGill", and other on the programme. Yells of the other universities were practiced, and the explosive R. M. C. roar was rendered in appropriate style. Such effusions as "There ain't no flies on us" were also shouted.

Meanwhile the billiard rooms and the cafeteria downstairs were filled. If only a crowd could have rounded up these delinquents and made them yell for their lives, the Union would have crashed to the ground with the vibration.

The rooters band will lead the "Thundering Thousands" to the Stadium this afternoon. The party will line up on the campus, and led by the band, will proceed towards the scene of combat. Every undergraduate of the University who intends to see the game is requested to come to the campus and take part in the rooting from the start, because an undergraduate who can yell is three times as useful as one who can't, for encouragement acts as a wonderful stimulus to the mighty men who are to uphold the honour of the university. While the attendance at Rooters' practice has been as usual, disappointing there is no reason that the turnout at the game should be that way, for there is an additional attraction.

The young ladies who intend to shout for the Collegians will join the forces of the male body on route to the Stadium and if their soprano ebullitions are heard above the raucous shouts of the men, the latter will be in the most abject humiliation.

On the whole, the leaders are satisfied with the way things are coming, for they know that more men will be on hand for the game than for the practice. Unfortunately, the sophomores are prevented from taking drastic action against such freshmen who refuse to go, so the latter will be left alone. It is to be hoped that they will keep up their hitherto excellent spirit, and turn out in force. As far as the game goes, it should be one of the best, for R. M. C. have a strong team which will give the University battlers a hard time.

TENNIS MANAGERS' MEETING YESTERDAY

Intercollegiate Meet at R.M.C. Next Year

C. W. Leslie, of McGill was elected president of the Intercollegiate tennis association, at a meeting held yesterday evening. John M. Miller also represents Montreal as an Honorary President.

TRACK MEN CAPTURE SEVENTH SUCCESSIVE CHAMPIONSHIP

Red and White Team Roll up Total of 66 Points to Toronto's 46 — Queen's Came Third with 14 — Two New Records Set — Gaboury Threw Javelin 148 Feet 2 Inches — Relay Race This Afternoon

In the biggest and best attended Intercollegiate Track Meet that has ever been held by Canadian Universities the Red and White rolled up a score of sixty-six points and won for the seventh consecutive time the Track championship. Conditions for the meet were not altogether ideal with the slow track and the low temperature, but there was little or no wind. Perhaps a large crowd of spectators assembled at this meet than at any previous time, the gathering numbering more than two thousand. In the evening the teams from McGill, Toronto, Queen's and Western tasted of Kingston hospitality when they were the guests of the Kingstonians at dinner.

The McGill team on the whole was very much stronger than last year, and although faced with the stiffest kind of opposition overcame their opponents in masterly fashion. At times the crowd were furnished with thrills that they will remember for a long time. In a brand new event in intercollegiate track, the Javelin Throw Gaboury of McGill startled everybody when he hurled the weapon a distance of 148 feet and two inches. The authorities say that this is a record that will stand for a long time. In the three mile race Goforth, formerly of Toronto, and now of McGill ran shoulder to shoulder with Turnbull of Varsity for the last quarter of a mile until, in the last few yards, the Varsity man faltered and lost the race by about twenty feet. Pierce won his events in the hurdles with apparent ease, and equaled in the 120 yard High Hurdles his record of sixteen and one fifth seconds. In the 220 yard Low Hurdles, a new event, Pierce set a record of twenty-seven and two fifths seconds.

Perhaps one of the gamiest exhibitions in the entire meet was put on by Consiglio in the High Hurdles. In this race he put his knee out of joint, severely strained a tendon and cut his hand, but he managed to crawl across the finishing line in third place. In the pole vault Consiglio, who was tied with Gaboury for first place, gave way to the pitter so that Gaboury might be fresh for the two events in which he still had to take part. In the one mile Rubin, of McGill set his own pace and held it throughout, winning by twenty yards.

Today the final event, the Relay Race will be run, but it will take no difference in the final standing of the teams. Western University failed to make any points but asserts that a very strong team will be sent down next year. R. M. C. did not enter a team but will contest the events at the next regular track meet if their present plans are carried out.

The final results follow: Discus throw—First, Gaboury, McGill, 103 feet 6 inches; second, Kennedy, McGill; third, Shute, Toronto. 120-yards high hurdles—First, Pierce, McGill, 16 seconds; second, Sparrow, Toronto; third, Consiglio, McGill.

Half mile—First, R. Thompson, Queens, 2:04 2-5, second, Hurd, McGill; third, Christie, Toronto.

Pole Vault—First, Gaboury, McGill, 10 feet 7 inches; second, Consiglio, McGill; third, Heard, Queens.

One mile—First, Rubin, McGill, 4:51 2-5; second, Thompson, Queens; third, Thompson, Toronto.

100 yards—First, Perry, Toronto; second, Daley, Queens; third, Morrison, Toronto. Time 10 1-5 seconds.

220 yards—First, Perry, 23 2-5 seconds; second, Mabey; third, Daley. Running high jump—First, Turner, Toronto; 5 feet 4 inches; second, Kennedy, McGill; third, Consiglio, McGill.

Three mile race—First, Goforth, McGill; second, Turnbull, Toronto; third, Graham, Toronto. Time 15:55 3-5.

In the three mile run both Queen's men were forced to drop out owing to exhaustion.

220 low hurdle—First, Pierce, McGill, 27 1-5 seconds; second, Sparrow, Toronto; third, McKenzie, Toronto.

Running broad jump—First, Patterson, McGill, 29 feet, 11 7-8 inches; second, Kennedy, McGill; third, Liveley, Toronto.

NOVA SCOTIA LINES TO BE SUBSIDIZED

Will Bring Relief to Thousands of People

The Province of Nova Scotia will claim the attention of the Canadian Parliament when it meets on Wednesday evening for the second session. The government has been loud in its claim that it serves the people and the legislation which is being introduced would seem to show that the claim is being well met.

An act is to be introduced for the subsidizing of the Nova Scotian coal mines. The people of the Eastern provinces have asserted that they have not been fairly used by the other provinces of Confederation. Undoubtedly they have had some grounds for grievance but if the government is successful in passing this measure a great source of this irritation will be removed.

At present the mines find that they are unable to keep open, and yet the closing of them will throw thousands of people out of work. It is a time for the government to act and act quickly if the Bluenose industries are to be maintained.

The Canadian industrial interests will rejoice greatly at this very concrete expression of the fact that Parliament is back of them in this endeavour to keep our manufacturers open during these critical years. It is an opportunity for Canadian voters to rally and show their confidence in safe and sane government.

CURIOUS COLLECTION AT OREGON U. LOST AND FOUND OFFICE

Eight perfectly good unattached them have been there since the but umbrellas at large on a rainy day. That is the report from the Lost and Found bureau in the University of Oregon depot. And that's not all. Last spring there were at one time forty unattached umbrellas.

Umbrellas are not the only things turned in at the bureau. In fact, almost any article one can think of may be found there. Since the women have taken up the mode of wearing scarfs, Mr. Fisher in the department has been busier than ever, and could almost set up a shop which handled scarfs, fur chokers, and umbrellas exclusively.

Fountain pens, silver pencils, and keys! The display would put to shame that of an ordinary shop. Some of great wealth was discovered in them.

From all indications, the fairer sex is not more absent-minded than the men; for to offset their compact bags, bracelets, gloves, and all handkerchiefs, there are cuff links, knives of every description, keys, keys and more keys, men's watches and fobs, bathing suits, gloves, and shoes. There are several purses, but as they were all found on the campus, no great wealth was discovered in them.

CLASS LISTS TO BE PREPARED

C. D. Everett Chairman of "Students' Directory" Committee

C. D. Everett of Arts 4 has been appointed by the Students' Council as Chairman of a Committee in charge of the "Students' Directory". Everett will have a committee composed of one representative from each faculty and these men will in turn distribute the class lists to each year in their Faculty. The class lists contain the names only and must be completed by filling in opposite each name, the city address and phone number of the student.

Immediate action is necessary in order to expedite the publication of this Directory and it is hoped that each year will co-operate to the fullest extent. The Committee is as follows: Arts—"Doug" Everett, Arts 4. Science—"Bob" Dingman Sc. 4. Medicine—"F. P. Ball, Med. 3. Commerce—"Phil" Waite, Com. 4. Law—"Paul Wickham, Law. 3. Dentistry—"Hal Grant, Dent. 4.

DIVORCE UPLIFTING NUMEROUS BAYLOR STUDENTS THINK

Out of the 67 students, who voted their likes and dislikes of 29 specified items recently at Baylor University, 17 declared divorce by mutual agreement the most uplifting of the lot against 11 who said it was the worst thing that could happen to the nation.

Results of the individual difference investigation, conducted in 294 education class several days ago shows that one student out of 67 who took the test did not know what walking was, dancing was unheard of by one, and two students were unacquainted with fiction. The class is composed of 52 girls and 15 boys.

Twenty items were given to the class to arrange in order of their likes and dislikes. Ten of the items were sports and ten were subjects relating to government.

The class lined the items from one to twenty as they liked them, considering one the least liked; strikes of labor unions, communism, eugenics, teaching Bible in public schools, divorces by mutual agreement, dancing, knickers for women, government ownership of public utilities, walking, fiction, League of Nations, horse-back riding, tennis, basketball, student self-government, poetry motion pictures, car riding, swimming, and Monroe Doctrine.

MONTREAL, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1924

TOWN AND GOWN.

University students seem to be agreed that a greater "spirit" exists at a college situated in a small town than at one which is buried in the heart of a large and busy city. The reasons advanced are that there are too many distractions in large cities, while in the small university town, the college itself is the town. In the latter case, it is suggested, the student must either take part in University activities or do nothing at all. The resulting college spirit, though possibly somewhat forced at first, develops very quickly in regard on the part of the student for his Alma Mater that is without a doubt difficult of duplication.

Our own University, situated in Canada's Metropolis, a city of a million souls, has for many years suffered from a mild, and on few occasions, severe attack of lack of college spirit. But though, undoubtedly Montreal offers many attractions to the student, who being only human, must be tempted by some of them, little excuse can be offered by a McGill man for going downtown to spend the larger part of his entertainment. Right here at the University, right here in our own Union, there is provided at least seventy-five per cent. of the diversion that the average student needs. To mention only a few things that are offered, he may eat, play billiards, dance either informally or formally, procure his smokes, read the latest magazines, enjoy afternoon tea to the melodious strains of a jazz band composed entirely of college students. And he may do all these things in the company of his fellow students in a strictly college atmosphere, and a lower expenditure than would be required if he went downtown. He may listen to instructive talks by the ablest men of the country, he may attend intercollegiate debates, or himself debate if he is so inclined, and an interesting field of work is offered him on the college newspaper. And this neglects entirely the invaluable opportunities awaiting him on the athletic field. The only thing not yet provided are moving pictures and legitimate theatricals; these are very necessary, but should only occupy a comparatively small portion of the student's off-hours.

If advantage were taken of all that is offered a spirit equalling that present in the almost-cloistered larger Universities of England would soon make itself evident here. As great a separation of town and gown as possible would be productive of magnificent results.

TWO CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Though the intercollegiate athletic season is as yet in its infancy, with only three weeks of the college year gone by, teams representing the Red and White have succeeded in gaining two championships for McGill. Yesterday afternoon at Kingston, an all-star track team bested our two ancient rivals, Toronto Varsity and Queens. Both rivals put up a keen fight, especially Toronto, and the McGill men had to work hard for the coveted crown. For the seventh consecutive year, the trophy emblematic of superiority in track and field events will rest in the McGill Union.

Playing superb tennis yesterday and the day previous, the McGill team, consisting of some of the finest tennis talent in the country, has brought home another championship, this one for the fifth consecutive time. These are two of the most outstanding records on the long intercollegiate list, and are the results of assiduous work on the part of the coaches and diligent application on the part of the contestants.

Up to the time of going to press last night, complete results were not available in either case, but in both events McGill had already succeeded in gaining a sufficient number of points to ensure the championships.

McGILL CLINCHED TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

At the very outset both teams were playing their best and McGill's 6-4 win in the first set came as a surprise. The second set brought some pretty quick rallying and driving. The two Browns worked their way to 5-2, when Varsity, staging a brilliant comeback won the three following games. On his service J. Brown won the sixth game for McGill, only to be tallied by Varsity, making it six all. The outcome was still a mystery. The Brown brothers however pulled themselves together and, making some brilliant plays won the next two games and the match, 6-4, 8-6.

They will play off with Wright and Leslie in the finals, which will be exclusive to McGill.

As the points now stand, McGill has already won the meet. The scores to date are:

	Singles	Doubles	Total
Varsity	5	2	8
Queens	1	0	1

Osgoode Hall 0 1 1
McGill 8 5 13

All McGill students will secure admittance to the grounds by University tickets, but an extra charge of thirty cents will be made for seating accommodation.

BANQUETS

LAST year I made an effort to serve the student body, apart from the Cafeteria, by catering to class dinners, society and club banquets, and special luncheons. The results were so well received that I am emphasizing this part of the Union service even more this year.

FOR we are now better equipped than ever to handle functions of this sort. With an adequate supply of everything needed for these occasions, I can provide for you in your own institution, and under circumstances far more compatible with college life.

BUT apart from the factors of quality of food and efficiency of service I merely mention that of loyalty to your own selves. You may express the latter by patronage of your own Union.

ARTS TEAM WILL PLAY MACDONALD

Held Signal Practice Yesterday Afternoon

STRONG TEAM

Arts Team to Play Dentistry Next Week

Fresh after a day's rest the Arts Interfaculty rugby team went through a stiff workout yesterday afternoon on the Campus. There were fifteen men out who are determined not to lose any more games this year and if the pep and snap with which they handled that ball is two serve as any criterion there is every possibility of the Arts team going through the rest of the season without a defeat. The game that they dropped to the hard-kicking Science team a few days ago has not in the least discouraged the players but on the other hand has been the means of pointing out to Coach Gordon Nairn the weaker spots either on the line or in the backfield.

It seems that what is required more than anything else is the ability to work the various plays with a certain amount of smoothness and ease and yesterday the Arts team were put through a rather strenuous signal practice in order to perfect the details of the Science game.

The next encounter is with Dentistry next week and there is every likelihood that Bobby Bell, who was out in uniform yesterday, will play quarterback. This in itself should be a determining factor in the outcome as Bell is an outstanding player whose absence from the line-up hitherto perhaps accounting for Arts' defeat. Clayton Bourne who did most of the bucking in the last game was out yesterday. Bronson and Gardner were also out and the general conclusion is that the game with Dentistry should not be misad.

An exhibition game with Macdonald College will be played this afternoon at St. Annes. Arts is the first team to meet the Aggies this year. Macdonald College always fields a good team, and the experience to be derived from this practice game should prove beneficial to the Montreal team.

The team will meet at the Bonaventure Station at 1:10 p. m.

EXTENSION COURSES AT UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS

Teaching by means of correspondence has grown in popularity as is shown by the large number of students enrolled during the past fiscal year in the extension teaching division of the University.

During the twelve months period ending August 31, 1924, there was a total of 5,026 students registered for the various one-third courses offered. This is an increase of 1,298 over the number of students enrolled during the previous twelve months period.

Steady Increase

There has been a steady increase in the number of students in the extension teaching division since that branch of the University was established. Most of these students take the correspondence instruction as a means of obtaining college credit. It has become a very common practice during the last few years especially for many students to take advantage of the correspondence courses offered to shorten their time in residence at the University. During the vacation period they are able to work off a number of credits in this way.

The enrollment of correspondence students is so large that it requires a teaching staff numbering 62 to carry on the instruction work. The courses which are offered by the extension teaching division embrace nearly every branch of study at the University. It is stated by the registrar of the division, that freshman English is most in demand on the part of students.

Correspondence students of the University of Texas are not by any means confined to young men and women who reside in this State. Some of these students live as far away as Alaska. Others make their home in Mexico and in various states of this country. Recently the registrar received an inquiry from a young man in India who wanted information in regard to taking engineering by means of correspondence.

No Entrance Examination

No entrance examination is required of applicants for correspondence courses; but, before allowing a student to register for a course, the University requires that certain information be furnished upon a formal application blank, and reserves the right to reject the application. Registration for correspondence courses may take place at any time. The registration fee for each correspondence course which is equal to one-third of a regular University course is $7. payable in advance.

Scholarships Offered

In 1913 the Board of Regents of the University authorized the granting of resident scholarships to correspondence students who complete

FIVE RECORDS SHATTERED IN M.S.P.E. SPORTS

Juniors Win Meet by One Point

AT STADIUM

Miss Margaret Robertson Wins Individual Championship

The Annual Inter-Year Track and Field Meet of the M. S. P. E. was held yesterday at 2:30 p. m. in the Molson Stadium.

The teams of both years were out to win, and after a closely fought battle the Juniors got what they were out for by winning with a score of 41 points to the Seniors 40 points.

That the wintry breezes, which prevailed throughout the day, did not take much heat from the enthusiasm of the contestants, is shown by the fact that five records met their Waterloo.

Miss Ballard, a Junior, has two records to her credit, namely the Javelin throw and the Baseball throw. In the former event, the old record of 61 ft. 4 3/4 ins. was broken, Miss Ballard throwing the javelin 76 ft 10 3/4 ins. and in the Baseball throw the record of 149 ft. 5 ins. was completely shattered and the new one of 180 ft 10 ins. was established.

The other record breakers at the meet were the Misses Robertson, Routh, and Ziff, who broke the Hop Step, and Jump, the Running High Jump and the 50 yds. Dash, respectively.

Miss M. Robertson of second year won the cup for the individual with the highest aggregate of points.

The sports' meet proved to be a complete success, both as regards the results of the various events, and also in the efficient manner in which it was arranged. The officials for the occasion were Miss Cartwright, Miss Harvey, Miss Wain, and members of the school.

The events were as follows:—

50 yds. dash—1st. Ziff. 2nd. Dow. 3rd. McCready. Time: 6 2-5 sec. (New record.)

Javelin Throw—1st. Ballard. 2nd. Amaron. 3rd. Kensit. Dis. 76'10 3/4. (New record.)

100 yds. Sprint.—1st. Burton. 2nd. Robertson. 3rd. Ross. Time: 12 1-5 sec. Hop. Step and Jump—1st. Robertson. 2nd. LeRoque. 3rd. Burton. Dis. 20' 11-2. (New record.)

Running High Jump—1st. Routh. 2nd. Tallow. 3rd. Copland. Height 4' 4". (New record.)

Baseball Throw—1st. Ballard. 2nd. Crang. 3rd. Robertson. Distance 180 ft. 10 in. (New Record.)

Hurdles. 1st. heat—1st Burton; 2nd Kensit. 2nd heat—1st Ziff; 2nd Copland.

Running Broad Jump 1st Robertson; 2nd Crang. 3rd Ballard. Distance 14 ft. 5 1-2 in.

Final of Hurdles 1st Burton; 2nd Kensit; 3rd Ziff and Copland. Time 10 sec.

Inter-class Relay. (220 yds.)—1st. Year I; 2nd Year II.

It was late at night, no one seemed to be about and the poor woman was very seasick. She thought if she could only get up to the deck a few minutes the fresh air would do her good. So, in her nightgown, she was crawling up the stairs when she met an equally sick man coming down. She gave a feeble scream of embarrassment. "Don't worry, lady," the man groaned. "I'll never live to tell it."—Ex.

A certain lady called her grocer up on the telephone the other morning. After she had sufficiently scolded the man who responded, she said:

"And, what's more, the next order you get from me will be the last I'll ever give you."

"It probably will, madam," said the voice at the other end of the wire, "you're talking to an undertaker."

as many as five full courses with an average grade of B. These scholarships are similar to the affiliated school scholarship, and entitle the holder to exemption from matriculation fees in the College of Arts and Sciences, the School of Education, and the College of Engineering so long as their conduct and standing are satisfactory to the faculty.

The time allowed for the completion of a correspondence course is one year, but in cases of sickness, absence of instructor, or interim due to residence work, the time may be extended to one year and a half. Each correspondence course covers the ground of one term of residence work and can be easily completed within ten weeks, it is explained. Except in an emergency, credit will not be granted for any correspondence course within thirty days from the date of the approval of registration.

The purpose of this regulation is to prevent students from attempting to do correspondence work for credit too hurriedly.

SOCCER MEN WILL PLAY TWO GAMES

R. V. H. and Fairmount Today's Opponents

STRONG TEAMS

McGill "B" Team to Play at 2 O'clock

This afternoon, at two o'clock, the McGill soccer team B plays the Royal Victoria Hospital eleven on the old campus. Following immediately upon this the McGill A team engage in contest with the strong Fairmount A. C. team, who are finalists in the Intermediate City Soccer League.

The B team is making its initial appearance today, and although, as a team the men have had but little practice together they are strong individually, and should make a good fight for victory against their rivals. The R. V. H. have been playing soccer all summer, and are entering with the decided advantage of more practice and unity, but this should not stand in the way of the determined red and white players, who are going in with an unconquerable spirit of fight. In view of this there is no doubt that a good game will take place, and a large following of both teams is expected to be present.

The A team, on the other hand, is a well-balanced machine, who have had considerable practice, the fruits of which were evident last Saturday, when the McGill eleven defeated the R. C. M. P. team.

The line-up of the collegians will be the same as that of last Saturday, the only change being on the right wing, and it is felt that this will materially improve the eleven.

The men whose names appear below are asked to note the team for which they have been selected to play, and also to be punctual, as the matches will commence promptly on the scheduled time, 2 o'clock for the B team, and 3:30 for the A.

Those of the players who have not yet received uniforms are asked to meet Seaton or Schleifer at Molson's Hall at 10 a. m. If lectures conflict with this time, to meet at the same place between 1 and 1:30 p. m.

The following are the teams:—

McGill "A"	McGill "B"
Goal.	Goal.
Davidson Easterbrook	Backs
Cane McLeod	Half backs
Stephenson Smith	Forwards
Holland Taylor	Archdale Giovando
Helwig Rinfret	Kelland Shippam

SEMI-FINALS OF R.V.C. TOURNAMENT

Miss Cochrane Defeats Miss Tweedie in Straight Sets

The semi-finals of the R. V. C. tennis tournament were played off yesterday afternoon at 2:30 on the R. V. C. courts when Miss E. Cochrane, 2nd year defeated Miss B. Tweedie 1st year in two straight sets (6-0) (6-4).

Miss Cochrane took the opening service and won the first point with an ace followed by a pair of slashing doubles. The remaining serves were true and she won the game. Miss Tweedie started her partner with her left hand underhand service and won the first two points. Miss Cochrane put in some good drives, the game going to duce twice and ending in Miss Cochrane's favour. Miss Cochrane won the next game, and Miss Tweedie became a bit nervous, and made several wild drives, bringing the score to 4-0 for Miss Cochrane. The next two games were very good and went to duce three times, but the set was finally won by Miss Cochrane (6-0).

In the second set Miss Cochrane won her service and treated the audience to some very good net play. Miss Tweedie won the next two games. Then they took alternate games until the score reached four all. The last two games were steady, and the rallying was very good; both games went to duce and were finally won by Miss Cochrane, ending the second set (6-4) in her favour.

The standard of play throughout the game was high. Miss Cochrane displayed skill in her variety of strokes, and played her balls well. Miss Tweedie confined her partner a bit with her peculiar style of serving, and in the second set her playing became much deadlier.

The R. V. C. tennis tournament has been most successful this year, there being 64 entries and much enthusiasm has been kept up throughout. At ten o'clock this morning Miss

DENT RUGBY TEAM BEATEN BY COMMERCE

Many Fumbles on Both Sides

SCORE 19-0

Dean Thornton, of Dentistry, Kicked Off

Commerce Interfaculty rugby team started off the season right by beating "luck" Greene's Dents to the tune of 19 to 0. The game, although fought hard all the way, was never in doubt and Commerce showed a superiority in all departments of the game. The "Tooth Pullers" however are undismayed and determined to come back strong against Arts next Wednesday.

Although there were many fumbles on both sides Dentistry suffered most from this, Commerce scoring a touchdown from one of the tooth pullers fumbles. Commerce made most of her gains by end runs and lateral passes. Dr. Thornton, dean of Dentistry, opened the game by kicking off.

Dentistry made a few long gains by a cross-cross which came as a complete surprise to the merchant princes, and resulted in a considerable gain which threatened for a time to add up some points on the Dental score.

The business men started off with a rush, and scored a rouge in the first few minutes. Before the quarter was over Lehan had carried the ball over on a recovered fumble for a touch which was not converted, making the score 6 to 0 at the end of the first period. The teeth artists bucked up in the second quarter, and their line was not scored, although one more rouge was scored. The first half closed with the Dents going strong against a score of 7-0.

Before the third period was over Lehan had carried the ball over again. A punt blocked by quarterback Kelland and some long runs by Allen and Kenrick paved the way to this touchdown. Another rouge was scored this period. The touch was converted and at three-quarter time the score stood 14-0.

There was an exchange of kicks at the first of the last quarter, and Robertson, centre half for Commerce, recovered a fumble and carried it over for a touch. This was not converted, and the ball stayed around the center of the field for the remainder of the period. The final score stood Commerce 19, Dents, 0.

The line-up was as follows.

COMMERCE	DENTS.
Flying wing	Kenrick

FROSH LAWBREAKERS SUFFER RETRIBUTION

For infringement of strict rules imposed upon them by the Arts sophomores, six freshmen were captured at the noon hour by their seniors. The latter had previously turned the Arts building basement into a chemical laboratory, preparing therein a multitude of powerful and jet black potions. The freshmen disappeared downstairs . . . and came up again though nobody recognized them. They were black chiefly, but liberally smeared with all dark colours. Then they were marched around the campus, the delight of many passers-by, after which they returned and washed off their decorations in the best way they could.

A splash of rouge, wild frizzed hair, Go to make up our Co-ed fair.

Stocking will play Miss De Blois in the semi-finals and the winner of this match, will meet Miss Cochrane in the finals. Miss Stocking was the champion in 1922-23 and the runner-up in the finals last year against Miss Carol Robertson who won the championship. Miss De Blois also did well last year, reaching the semi-finals.

The consolation tournament is being played off now, and the third round is also completed. It is hoped that this tournament will be finished by the end of the week.

SOPHS RAID GREEN ONES IN COMMERCE

Catch Them One by One Yesterday Noon

SANDWICHES

Frosh, Divested of Boots, Eat Edibles With Hands Tied Behind Backs

A series of exciting scenes took place on the campus yesterday afternoon shortly after one o'clock, when the fierce Commerce sophomores raided their verdant brothers and gave them to understand that because they won the rush at the Stadium they were not yet top dogs. And they certainly were not though it must be admitted that deadly and treacherous tactics helped the Sophomores in their summary revenge.

Picture then the innocent freshmen coming out from lectures one by one. Little anticipating what was in store for them. As they prepared to march down to the Union, there to replenish their aching voids they were seized upon by rough foes who made them go towards and on the campus.

Then oh miserable scene—each as a parade freshman had his boots and shoes unlaced and placed on a pile. What a picturesque variety! New and old oxfords, brogues and fancy shoes and boots of all colours, sizes and descriptions, were all there, and the late sophomores mixed them up so that no two boots of a pair were within a yard of each other. The victims looked on, with sullen looks and loquacious longues.

This ordeal was followed by the equally bad one of having their hands tied behind their backs. They were then strung on a long rope and the order was given to race.

At the word so the line swerved forward in promising fashion, until spectators were surprised to find a pile of humanity suddenly gathering in the middle. This pile grew, and barrels of bad language issued therefrom. When it was discovered that those at the bottom were in imminent danger of losing their lives, sophomores began the work of extricating them, and that done, they offered each verdant one a luscious egg (and perhaps mustard) sandwich. The price for this small but sweet edible was twenty-five cents payment of which was compulsory.

The use of their hands was forbidden to most of the freshmen, and the aerobic actions which their mouths indulged in during the process of mastication, were very instructive to watch.

They were freed a few seconds afterwards spectators watched a battle royal, the scene of which was a pile of boots. The number of boots destroyed had not yet been ascertained!

FRESHMEN HOSTS TO SOPHS AT BANQUET

As in previous years, the Freshmen of McGill University will tender a banquet to the Sophomores which will be held in the Union at 6:30 p. m. on October 23. The Freshmen will arrange the banquet and provide the entertainment. In order to arrange for this, a meeting of Arts '23 has been called for one o'clock this afternoon in the Biological Building, immediately after English lecture.

The following regulations have been decided upon for those who are repeating their respective years. Men who are taking their second year for the second time are cordially invited providing they purchase their own tickets. Men who are repeating first year and who were the hosts of last year's class are requested to purchase their own tickets, while those who did not participate last year will be considered in the same category as regular freshmen.

Report Of The Principal

A young country, needing all our available funds for development, we have saddled ourselves with an incredible burden of debt. To get Canada again on the path of progress and prosperity we need an organization far superior to that which was needed when the work was small and comparatively easy. To form such an organization we need men, and men of the most highly educated type, men who cannot be found among university graduates. The members of a Cabinet are, it is true, responsible for the conduct of the nation's affairs, but their departments require the services of highly trained experts in order to function efficiently. No general would think of directing an army without staff officers; he would never have time for the thousand technical details nor for the direction of those services which must be carried on continuously. It is for him to point out the result to be obtained, to direct and to control. It is for his staff to correlate and co-ordinate the necessary work, to combine it with the services of supply, communication and all such necessary adjuncts, so that the entire operation will proceed smoothly and successfully.

It was long ago found in Great Britain that a most important essential to the success of a democratic government, involving as it does frequent changes of control, was a highly qualified and highly organized permanent political staff. The man who wishes to enter the service of the State in England, in the upper grade of what is known as class A of the Civil Service, must pass an examination requiring not only the possession of a university degree, but a very high standard of learning. It is, for example, a well-known fact that the best linguists among Englishmen are, as a rule, to be found in the diplomatic service, that among the most highly qualified scientists are those employed in various government departments, that the senior members of the permanent staff of the Foreign Office are men who have a long and thorough acquaintance with the course of world politics.

It would be quite impossible for any Minister, elected and appointed according to our present method, to carry on without the information and assistance which such a staff is able to give him. The fact that the responsible member of the Cabinet has obtained the confidence of his countrymen is warrant that he may be trusted to give wise consideration to matters that come before him and to render decisions in accord with the policies of his government. He cannot, however, give such consideration without being made acquainted with all the facts at issue, and without the fullest possible appreciation of the bearing of one question upon another. It is to furnish him with these requisites that the permanent staff of his department exists. With the tremendous development of Canada, with the still greater developments for which we must look in the future, has come the necessity for a Government Service such as can efficiently fill our needs, and such a service can only be supplied by those who have a thorough university training, directed toward the career which they have selected. In the future development of the University it will be necessary to make the fullest provision for the training of men for the service of the State.

In the strictly scientific branches of the Civil Service the University has already supplied many whose work for the country has been of the utmost value. We hope that it will be the part of the Faculty of Arts to furnish for the political staff of the Dominion and the provinces, men who will play a real part in the progress of the country.

The duty of the University as regards the provision of skilled staff for departments of the State, is only a specialized form of its duty to the country at large. No University should be merely a place where the undergraduate obtains a certain modicum of learning. No undergraduate should leave our doors without the realization that he is a member of a community, that he has some responsibilities to others than himself. The undergraduate who realizes that the University is itself a state in miniature, who takes the greatest possible advantages of the opportunities for team-work, will in his after life reap the greatest advantages from his training, and will be of the greatest value to his fellows.

There are in this respect two very different types of institution lying as it were, at the end of a very long scale of colleges and universities, each of which tends more or less towards one or other extreme. On the one hand we have Oxford and Cambridge, where the individual is almost completely subordinated to his college and to his university. Dons and undergraduates form a completely homogeneous whole. The undergraduate's actions, his words, even his thoughts are very largely governed by a very clearly developed public feeling as to what should or should not be done. The "Slacker" in his work is not highly regarded, the "Slacker" in undergraduate activities does not exist, the student who fails to live up to the traditions of his college and serve it in the best way possible is "ragged" or ostracized. A man is judged far less by what he knows than by what he is. It may be that such a system goes too far in one direction, that the tyranny of what are in reality class customs is excessive, that the undergraduate tends to conform too much to one pattern, but at least the man who completes his course is one who has had contact with his fellows, has learned to deal with men and to serve his country. At the opposite end of our scale we find institutions which are "knowledge factories" constructed on a colossal scale, where "Individual liberty" and "academic freedom" have become nothing more than much-abused catch-words.

If there is one aim that McGill cherishes more than any other, if there is one object which has been constantly before her eyes, it is that she may serve the country to the best of her power. If we are to succeed in this, every member of the University, teacher and undergraduate alike, must share in a greater purpose than the production of skilled individuals; we must keep in view and ever strive towards the high ideals of national duty.

A. W. CURRIE,
Principal.

1924 WOMEN
"Masculine" is an adjective we often hear applied to the modern women. Reasons for this may be seen in that women are becoming interested in world affairs, education and athletics; the things in which our grandmothers and mothers had little part.
Higher standards of energy and ideals of health have been adopted by women today as a matter of necessity. They have turned to the things for which they are criticised because they must belong to "the fittest" or be lost. They are interested in "outside" life because bungalow and apartment house-keeping cannot fill the day of an active woman. And they must be healthy, in accordance with the nervous tension of today's civilization.
Take the college woman for example; forty hours of school work a week, preparation and classes, is a fair average for the majority. If they are not sturdy, courageous, tolerant persons, what can we say for those who have "eight-thirties," who walk miles from class-room to class-room, who spend the evening studying in the library, who learn to concentrate and take notes on what—in many cases—might be better stated in a book? The self-supporting girl who must work at least four hours each day in addition to her regular duties certainly must have all the vitality that she can acquire to make good.
The traditional woman of the past we cannot see her doing the full day's work that is required of a modern woman. If she could have, she would not have admitted it; the age demanded that she be fragile.
Today health is the sincere standard of women—especially college women. The criticism that they are "masculine" is absurd. To be healthy is not necessarily to be masculine. And it is necessary. Otherwise women would perish in the age of strenuous effort.

U. OF M. WILL PARADE TO "BURN THE TAM"

This evening, the students of the U. of M. will hold their third annual parade and Mock Ceremony of the "Burial of the Tam." The Parade will start at 7.30 P. M. sharp from Vigar Square in front of "Les Hautes Etudes Commerciales" building. It will go up St. Dennis st. to Mt. Royal ave. and will proceed along Mt. Royal Ave. to the Cartier Monument in Fletcher's Field. There, with due pomp and ceremony, the "Tam" will then be burned and the ashes buried. This procession is one of the largest and most worth while of its type held in Montreal. More than twenty allegorical floats will follow the hearse containing the "Tam." A jury including the Deans of all Faculties and Schools, under the joint presiding of Mgr. Platte, Rector of the U. of M., and Hon. A. David Provincial Secretary, will overlook the parade and award the prize cup to the Faculty or School with the best representative float.
